

On-campus accommodation

University of Victoria

The University of Victoria is pleased to be hosting the 2013 Congress of the Humanities and Social Sciences and we look forward to welcoming you.

Rooms have been reserved in 21 residence buildings on UVic's campus. All rooms have wireless Internet access, include breakfast and are within close proximity of the academic buildings on campus. The university residences can accommodate close to 1,800 delegates nightly.

For those bringing a vehicle and are staying in residence, a residence guest parking permit may be purchased at the front desk for $10 per day.

Please note we are unable to take reservations for Congress until January 2013 due to BC tax legislation. The province of British Columbia is eliminating the HST and returning to the provincial sales tax (PST) plus federal goods and services tax (GST) system. This transition will be taking place in 2013, and will impact the taxes that are implemented on accommodations. Please bear with us as we await clarification on the taxes that will be applied to your reservation. All rates quoted do not reflect applicable taxes.

Accessible Accommodations

UVic's accessible residences have automatic door entrances with access from ground level and/or a ramp. Bedroom amenities such as levers, peepholes and mirrors, have been lowered and in the case of apartment units, countertops in the kitchen have also been adjusted to accommodate a wheelchair if required. Wash-rooms with roll in showers are available as well as bedrooms with a strobe light for people who are hard of hearing. People that require an accessible bedroom in residence should contact us prior to their arrival.

Double and single dorm rooms.

Special for On-line Bookings

For Congress participants who utilize our on-line booking system, you will be entered into a draw to receive two nights of your stay with us free of charge. Bookings made by phone will not be eligible for the draw. We strongly encourage you to use our fast and user-friendly, on-line booking form.
