

Monday, May 28 / lundi, le 28 Mai

900-1200 Session 1. Athol Murray College of Notre Dame (Wilcox, SK)

We will arrange a carpool to Athol Murray College for those wishing to visit its collections. Cars will depart from Regina at 8:15 a.m. Please contact David Watt (david.watt@umanitoba.ca) by noon on Sunday, May 27 if you plan to attend and indicate whether you need a ride to Wilcox or can provide a ride to others (please get in touch sooner if you can).

Please note that the Special Collections Librarian at Archer Library will be putting together a display in the Rare Books Room of the manuscript holdings (a 13th-century Venetian deed) and early printed books at the University of Regina.

1200-1330 Lunch/Dîner

1330-1500 Session 2. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Authorship and Authority in Medieval England

Chair/Président: Dominic Marnier, University of Guelph

Perceforest as Mirror: Catching the Imagination of Edward III
Melissa Furrow, Dalhousie University

The Pearl-Poet, the Gawain-Poet, and the substantival adjective
Richard Firth Green, The Ohio State University

Reading Mary: John Lydgate's Life of Our Lady and Henry Chichele's Reform of the English Church
Brandon Alakas, University of Alberta

1500-1530 Break/Pause

1530-1700 Session 3. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Food: Feasting and Fasting in the Middle Ages

Chair/Présidente: Christa Canitz, University of New Brunswick

Butter, oil, eggs, and meat: Requests for Dispensations from Fasting and Abstinence Requirements in Britain, 1248-1503
Allison Fizzard, University of Regina

The Chester Noah's Flood: Animals and Dietary Regulations
Ernst Gerhardt, Laurentian University

The Bakers' Play of the Last Supper in York: Christ's Body as Holy Bread, Christ's Body as Eucharistic Wafer
Leanne Groeneveld, University of Regina

1930 All participants are invited to join an informal social gathering at The Bushwacker
Brewpub (2206 Dewdney Avenue)
CSM Executive Meeting

Tuesday, May 29 / mardi, le 29 mai

845-1015 Session 4. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Medieval Texts, Modern Lenses

Chair/Président: Marc Cels, Athabasca University

Teaching Old English Through Translations: The Triangulation Method

Michael Kightley, University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Medieval Mansplaining: The Disruption of Female Knowledge Dissemination

Brenna Duperron, Dalhousie University

Professional Pages, Done Dirt Cheap: On the Genre of English Offcut Manuscripts

Stephanie Lahey, University of Victoria

1015-1030 Break / Pause

1030-1200 Session 5. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Plenary with Scandinavian Society

Chair/Présidente: Natalie Van Deusen, University of Manitoba

Sacrality and the Landscape in the Nordic Middle Ages

Thomas Dubois, University of Wisconsin at Madison

1200-1215 Break/Pause

1215-1345 Lunch/Dîner (AGM)

1345-1400 Break/Pause

1400-1530 Session 6. College West 115

Landscape and Gender in Medieval Scandinavia

Chair/Président: David Watt, University of Manitoba

Landscape, Language, Maternal Space, and Child Exposure in Jómsvíkinga

Robin Waugh, Wilfred Laurier University

“‘There are Few Things More Powerful than Destiny.’ Gender, Power and Foresight in The Sagas of the Icelanders”

Amy M. Poole, University of Guelph

CANADIAN SOCIETY OF MEDIEVALISTS / SOCIÉTÉ CANADIENNE DES MÉDIÉVISTES
ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING / RÉUNION ANNUELLE
UNIVERSITY OF REGINA, 28-30 MAY 2018 / UNIVERSITÉ DE REGINA, 28-30 MAI, 2018

Gender, Crime and Space in Medieval Scandinavian Law
Christine Ekholst, Uppsala University

Session 7. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Ecclesiastical Questions

Chair/Présidente: Meredith Bacola, University of Manitoba

Sanctuary and Abjuration in Thirteenth-Century England
Kenneth F. Duggan, Huron University College

Why Should a Blockhead Have One in Ten? Thinking About Tithes at the End of the Middle Ages
Derek Neal, Nipissing University

1530-1600 Break/Pause

1600-1715 Session 8. College West 115

Icelandic Romance

Chair/Président: Christopher Crocker, University of Winnipeg

Romance Elements in Icelandic Virgin Martyr Legends
Natalie van Deusen, University of Alberta

Diverse Gatherings: Imagining the New North Sea Empire in Old Icelandic Romance
Andrew Klein, Wabash College

1900 Banquet/Banquette

All are welcome (and encouraged) to attend. Please RSVP to Meredith Bacola as soon as possible to indicate you plan to come. (Meredith.Bacola@umanitoba.ca). The cost will be approximately $40 in addition to beverages.

Wednesday, May 30 / mercredi, le 30 mai

900-1015 Session 9. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Chair/Président: Dominic Marner, University of Guelph

CSM Plenary (Past President)

What Do We Study When We Study Manuscripts in Canada?
David Watt, University of Manitoba

1015-1030 Break/Pause

1030-1200 Session 10. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Medieval Film and The Modern Classroom

Chair/Présidente: Melissa Furrow, Dalhousie University

The Real Middle Ages vs The Reel Middle Ages
Jacqueline Murray, University of Guelph

Sanctity on Screen: Performativity, Sanctity, and the Medieval Imaginary
Alison More, University of Toronto

Hits and Flops: The Pedagogical Value of Medievalist Historical Films across Disciplines and Borders
Felice Lifshitz, University of Alberta

1200-1330 Lunch/Dîner

1330-1500 Session 11. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

Medieval Hagiography
Chair/Président: Brandon Alakas, University of Alberta

Reading Sanctity in the Epigraphic Poetry of Damasus
Zach Yuzwa, St Thomas More College, University of Saskatchewan

Establishing a Sacral landscape in Felix's Life of St Guthlac
Meredith Bacola, University of Manitoba

Measuring Time and Topography in the Cult of Cuthbert at Durham
Dominic Marner, University of Guelph

1500-1530 Break/Pause

1530-1700 Session 12. Language Institute 216 Rotunda

The Material Medieval Memory Project
Chair/Président: Michael Kightley, University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Deforestation, Energy Penury, and the Old English Poems of the Exeter Book
Murray McGillivray, University of Calgary

Memorializing Matter: Early Medieval Scandinavian Identities and their Material
Memories
Jaclyn Carter, University of Calgary

Building matters: a case study in partnerships for environmental sustainability
Kenna L. Olsen, Mount Royal University

1700 President's Reception/Réception du Président