

As host of the 2018 Congress of the Humanities and Social Sciences, the University of Regina looks forward to welcoming you to our city and our campus! In anticipation of your visit and participation, we would like to take this opportunity to share with you a little about the University, our city and our province.

www.uregina.ca

University of Regina

Who we are:

The University of Regina is one of the premiere comprehensive universities in Canada. It is home to 10 faculties and 25 academic departments with established reputations for excellence and innovative programs leading to bachelor, master, and doctoral degrees. Our programs have grown in response to the needs of the province and the economy, and offer an effective balance of scholarship, research, and public service that continues to attract national and international attention. Our student enrolment, including Aboriginal and international students, has grown considerably in recent years, with more than 14,000 full-time and part-time undergraduate and graduate students registered.

The University of Regina is comprised of a main and historic campus, as well as three federated colleges:

- Champion College, a Jesuit, liberal arts college which provides a unique university experience characterized by a strong sense of community and focus on personalized support;
- Luther College, which focuses on teaching within the faculties of Arts, Fine Arts, and Sciences, and prides itself on its student-centred approach; and
- First Nations University of Canada, which offers advanced learning, research, and employment opportunities for Aboriginal people, and explores the history, language, culture, and artistic heritage of First Nations peoples.

Our main and historic College Avenue campuses, covering 930 acres, provide an attractive environment for our students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The campus is located in the picturesque Wascana Centre, one of the largest urban parks in North America.

What we will offer:

Congress 2018 in Regina will be a truly unique conference. Both the City and the University have a great deal of experience hosting successful events, including the Canada Summer Games in 2005, the JUNO Awards and the Grey Cup in 2013 and, most recently, the North American Indigenous Games in 2014. The University of Regina is proud to be part of a strong community of warm, friendly, and hospitable prairie people who are known for working together towards common goals.

Regina is home to the RCMP Heritage Centre and Depot Division, the Royal Saskatchewan Museum, as well as the provincial Legislative Building and the Saskatchewan Science Centre, both of which are located only a short distance of the University's main campus.

In recent years, the City has experienced unprecedented growth, with a booming economy, a vibrant arts and cultural scene, and amenities to cater to every need. Similarly, our campus is growing, with new residence buildings slated for completion in 2015, world-class athletic facilities, and a full complement of conference services and spaces that will ensure that Congress 2018 is successful for your association!

